Blue Hand

Blue Hand is a gateway, an opening, a portal from one understanding to another. A clue to the meaning of Blue Hand is found in the meditation, "I am, by thinly veiled design, the threshold to other dimensions. In my ending is my beginning. The initatory gateway awaits." Blue Hand is the seventh or last archetype in the cycle of development of primary being. It represents the power found in completion. Blue Hand is seen as a closure, which is really an opening to another level of being.

Like the fluidity of moving water, Blue Hand is associated with the process of dance, mudra, and beauty. This movement is a metaphor for the ebb and flow of life. In meditation with this, experience the flowing quality that is the beauty of the cosmic dance. Remember this essence and this fluidity at times when your life feels most inflexible or lacking in beauty.

❖ Tzolkin Signature

Today we start the wavespell of the Seal of the Blue Hand, which goes beyond archetypes as it literally represents our hands.
Our hands are instruments that allow us to transmute our knowledge into tangible creation, leaving ourselves and our environment in a resonance of accomplishment.
We write poetry, music, code, manifestos, books, scripts, business plans, and blueprints.
We operate machines, tools, vehicles, gadgets, and computers.We massage and hug and touch and pull and squeeze and grab and lift and give and shake and point and gesture and direct.

Today also being the first day of a new wavespell, we tap into the Magnetic tone to attract all of the energetic resources we will need to complete our mission. With a limitless amount of creation options available at our hands, it's imperative to get grounded and clear in our purpose so that we know which supplies we need to pull off the infinite shelf of the cosmic superstore.
Look to the power of the Blue Hand who shows us the greatest action we can take is to heal through service.

Moving Forward

1) Spend time thinking/meditating on what you want to accomplish/create/build over the next couple of weeks. Write it down and/or record it.

2) Take a couple minutes focused on your hands. Feel them, press them, move them, really look at them and connect with them. While you're doing this think about everything that you have and can accomplish with your hands

Life is a constant reminder,
That I must go in to go out,
As the more I discover, accept and embrace,
The less crippled I am with doubt.
