3 IX (Jaguar) : Human's Road to Destiny (!)

On the Sun's scale of physicality, photons hold not matter – particles of pure energy that pass through and excite matter to create an atomic reaction on the smallest scale.

To claim you found YOUR WAY, look down. The path lies at your feet – you will see the footsteps when you reach the otherside. From here we're moved from the heart by all the Beauty of Mother Earth – ANYTHING we CHOOSE.

START with the Most Important Step you can take. We learn the Truth along the way.

Tone 3 holds the Intention of Movement. We bring Life to a new Vibration through the Sound of Movement or the Dissemination of Communication. The Tone and Frequency is defined by the Reason. Movement is a Sign of Life. The Creation was born of the Sound of the first Breath. When we move for an 'Inspired' Meaning and Purpose we create the sound of Beauty that solicits a Feeling of Harmony and Equity. Human's discernment of Reality is based on how we Feel.

Suggested Contemplation for Week 5

- Consider how Love might appear for each of the waves/spiral levels
- How has your expression and sense of who you are changed through your own journey? What 'personality distortions' have been programmed in through your encounters and experiences?
- In what ways can you let go of needing to keep on 'working on yourself'?
- If you let go of your 'stories', can you surrender to the truth of simply being YOU?
- Choose the more challenging aspects of your 'profile' that you can identify and utilise the unbind-neutralise – initiate process to ignite the embodiment of more Love

The Various Archetypal Roles

One way to describe our 'Role in life' is as the spiritual archetype we embody. Every individual has a particular inherent way of being is predominant, and although we have only one role, there are secondary role influences. We could say that our role is our primary style—it determines not so much what we do but how we tend to do whatever we choose to do. Anyone can do any activity, regardless of role, although each role tends to gravitate toward certain activities. For example, since Communicators are the cardinal expression role, they often like to disseminate information. However, a person should not assume that he is a Communicator just because he likes to do that—people of other roles may also have that characteristic. A role is not an exclusive, rigid set of behaviors.

Action	Guide (King) 4% Seeks to Lead	Conqueror (Warrior) 17% Seeks a challenge
Expression	Communicator (Sage) 10% Seeks to Communicate	Innovator (Artisan) 22% Seeks Creatvity
Inspiration	Inspirer (Priest) 8% Seeks to Serve the Higher Good	Supporter (Server) 25% Seeks the Common Good
Assimilation	Organiser (Scholar) 13% Seeks Knowledge

The Various Archetypal Goals

Our goal is the primary motivation behind what we choose to seek and experience in life. It often, even if indirectly, shapes the general arc of our life and colors the palette of experiences that take form on the life canvas. Much about the human condition can be learned from a study of the seven goals.

The goal could be thought of as the life theme, the underlying meaning behind the desires and actions of the soul. The goal is then the focal point, and like a leitmotif from the arts, if the goal were audible it would be a reoccurring musical phrase that resonates throughout the lifetime. A life without one of the seven goals would tend to feel meaningless and without purpose.

The positive and negative poles can be used as a yardstick to measure the overall results of a goal. In other words, is the motivation behind the goal based on love or fear? Learning to act from the positive pole of a goal is a common lesson that essence will challenge the personality with over the course of a lifetime.

The Seven Archetypal Modes

The Mode is the way in which people pursue their Goal. It is also their general manner of conduct or deportment. It is the underlying behavior pattern or "modus operandi" of the personality — the standard operating procedure. It is how people do things: their style, their path.

Action	Dynamic Dynamism - Belligerence	Perseverance Persistence - Inflexible
Expression	Power Authority – oppression	Caution Deliberation - phobia
Inspiration	Fire & Intensity Passion - irrational	Reservation Restraint – Inhibition

Solfeggio Frequencies

The ancient Solfeggio scale, known as "Just Intonation", is renowned for its use in the Gregorian chants, but its history can be traced back to Biblical times. The 6-tone scale, and an additional 3 tones discovered since, is considered by many musicologists and scientists to have a positive effect on the mind and body.

Our modern twelve-tone scale is said to suppress our emotions, stifle our intuition, and limit our consciousness. Scientifically, it is even out of sync with the natural world – and can thus may influence the manifestation of physical symptoms like fatigue, pain, stress and even disease. On the other hand, the Solfeggio scale is mathematically consistent with the patterns of our universe and has been shown to have significant healing abilities.

Suggested Contemplation for Week 6

- Select your chosen tone from the Solfeggio scale & spend some time listening to it. Note any physical/emotional/mental changes that take place over a couple of days.
- Utilise the 111 hz pure tone as background listening and note how this soothes your nervous system and its influence on your creativity, thought processes, emotional state etc.
- Review the Dr David Martin Documentary 'Future Dreaming' for inspiration and ideas on dreaming our new world.
